"1962"—The year to remember. It is with this in mind that we have created your yearbook. As echoing memories filled our past, we endeavored to capture events, people, and places as they were, that they might remain with you a lifetime.

As the year evolved, we saw Monticello's ideals unfold about us. The new faces quickly became familiar and warm as they contributed to the spirit and tradition of Monticello that permits our special unity to prevail. It was progress that determined Monticello's pace and motivated achievement. To this then, the Program for Progress, we dedicate the 1962 Echo.

We wish to give our special thanks and appreciation to the Echo's dedicated staff whose unrelenting efforts have made the 1962 Echo a reality, and in particular to Monticello's new Director of Public Information, Mr. Starkey. Due recognition to Mr. Paeltz and his assistant, Mr. Hicks, for the photographs this year is also in accord.

Through trials and tribulations, we have experimented and learned. "We hope you like it!"

BERTRAND RUSSELL
WISDOM OF THE WEST

The President of Monticello, Dr. Duncan Wimpress, is perhaps the most inspiring and active member of the Monti family. Since 1959 when Dr. Wimpress first came to Monticello, he has greatly raised our status among the nation's colleges for women. During these years the improvement in Monticello's curriculum, its admission policy, and its more modern equipment has been tremendous.

Aside from his regular duties, Dr. Wimpress and other members of his family can be seen at a Cabin party, a college dance, or dining with the students on Sunday afternoons.

Ever Progressive

Always Present

The Board of Trustees

Board members are, standing: J. Preston Levis, Chrm. Board, Owens-Illinois Glass Co.; President Wimpress; Mrs. John Green, alumna; Mrs. George Milnor, alumna; Ethan A. H. Shepley, Chanc. of Washington University; Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman; Mrs. Thomas E. Hogg, alumna; Mr. Edmund Morgenstern; Mrs. Joseph Paper, alumna; Mrs. Spencer T. Olin, exec. comm.; James A. Kellock, pres. of Atlas Film Corp. Seated: M. Ryrie Milnor, pres. of the First National Bank, Alton; B. E. Basset, Gen. Mgr., U.S. Defense Corp.; Spencer T. Olin, Director, Olin-Mathieson Chemical Co.; Dr. Robert Anschuetz, physician.

BOARD OFFICERS: M. Ryrie Milnor; B. E. Bassett; Spencer T. Olin, Chairman of the Board; Dr. Robert R. Anschuetz.

During the year 1961-1962, the Board of Trustees continued to bring about the success in the long-range planning of the "Program for Progress."

Under the direction of Mrs. Spencer T. Olin, chairman of the Board, the trustees meet three times yearly to study the financial and academic growth of the school.

This group of nationally recognized business leaders carries the influence and prestige of Monticello throughout the country.

Planning Progress

Working hard for the betterment and progress of Monticello is her Vice-President, Dr. Gail E. Myers. In addition to being Vice-President, Dr. Myers also supervises the Public Relations Department and is the director of our Program for Progress. All of these jobs require a lot of time and knowledge and make Dr. Myers one of the busiest persons on campus. In spite of this, he always seems to find time to stop and talk to any student who is in need of his advice.

Striving for

As Dean of Faculty, Dr. Herman A. Heise selects and plans Monticello's academic courses; he presides at the Judicial Councils of the College and Preparatory School and also conducts an eighth hour German class. Yet with all these responsibilities Dr. Heise still finds time to become acquainted with Monti's students, aiding them in the many decisions they must make. During his first year on campus he has gained the admiration and respect of everyone.

Improvement

Mrs. Florence Duree, Dean of Students, who has given to us so much of her time, energy, guidance and enthusiasm, is always available for consultation or just a friendly chat. It is she who represents to us the true spirit of Monticello. As the adviser to the Junior Class and Junior Committee, Mrs. Duree assists in the preparation and presentation of the G.W.B., and also sponsors the Student Council.

Mrs. Robert Shewman, Director of the Preparatory School, serves Monticello in many ways. As a friendly adviser to the girls, she counsels them in social or academic problems and maintains individual contact with each and every "Prep." She can also be found joining the students in the fun of giving a dance, or as hostess of a hamburger party. In her official capacity as Director, Mrs. Shewman sponsors the Junior Class and the Student Council, and is a member of the Judicial Board. However, she is never too busy to stop for a minute to chat or help with some particularly frustrating assignment.

Social Activities and

As an alumna of Monticello, Miss Laurie Brader has returned in a new capacity as Social Director of the college. Frequently she can be seen conferring with the Social Committee, making theatre reservations, or inviting a fraternity to attend our next mixer. Miss Brader has rapidly become a well known personality on campus and one of our favorite chaperones.

"Who arranged that wonderful cabin party?" Miss Hall, of course! As the Preparatory School's Social Director, Miss Shirlee Hall is constantly planning activities, dances, informal get togethers, and shopping trips into St. Louis. Indeed, she seems to be an invaluable asset to the Preps.

Information, Please

Serving Monticello in a dual role, Mr. W. F. Starkey is the Director of Public Information and Faculty Adviser to our yearbook, the Echo, and the campus newspaper, the Times. His first year here at Monticello, Mr. Starkey has been busy preparing and distributing the Alumnae Bulletins and Dad's Club Newsletters to inform everyone of student progress and activities.

The Director of Alumnae affairs at Monticello is Mrs. Ralph Schmidt. Mrs. Schmidt keeps up an active correspondence throughout the year with all Monti Alumnae. As director she is responsible for supervising Homecoming and Alum weekends and planning Alumnae parties in various areas across the United States. She also conducts fund raising drives for the support of Monticello, and after hours her job continues with Alumnae bake sales and chaperoning the College dances.

Admissions and Guidance

A new staff, and a larger increase in the enrollment, are two of the many changes made this year, under the supervision of our Director of Admissions, Mr. Kenneth Bullmer.

Not only does he maintain an active correspondence with those interested in Monticello, but he is also the Registrar and Director of Guidance. He visits many schools of the different states during the year, talking to prospective students and answering their questions. He prepares the transfer records and recommendations for transfer students and plans the testings, adviser-advisee and master schedules. It is he and his staff that enables Monticello to progress.

Money, Letters, and Food

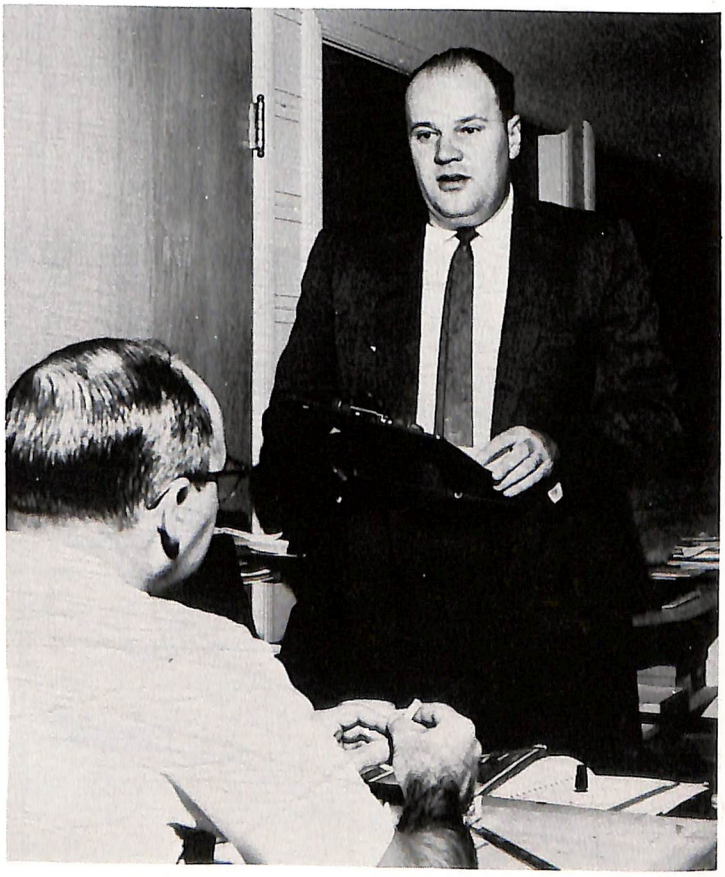
Who makes the educated guess as to how many buses, or what the girls want to eat? That person is Colonel Sanford Goodman, the man in charge of "Operational Services." It is his job to follow the budget set by the Board of Trustees and to regulate the Monticello Bank. In addition to these tasks, Colonel Goodman oversees the activities of the post office, the business office and the cabin.



As bursar, it is Mr. Robert Wharton's job to follow the flow of money as it moves from hand to hand. His almost constant companion is the adding machine; the two of them together make an efficient couple.

Service . . .

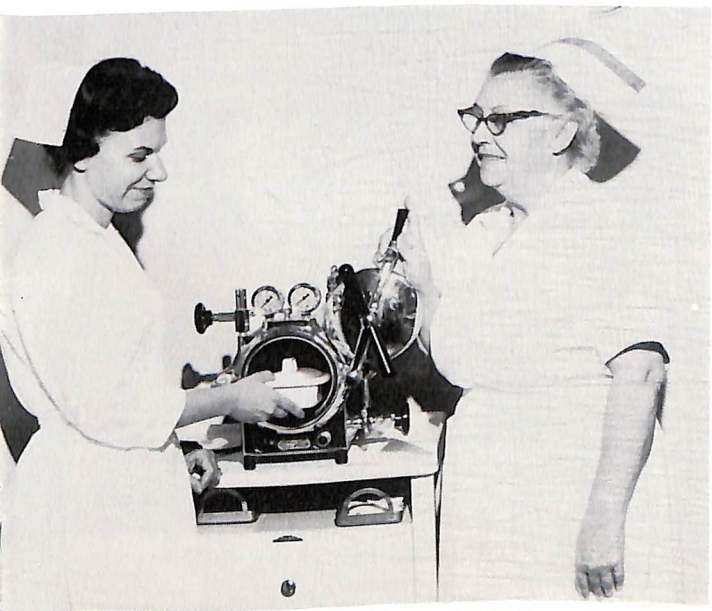
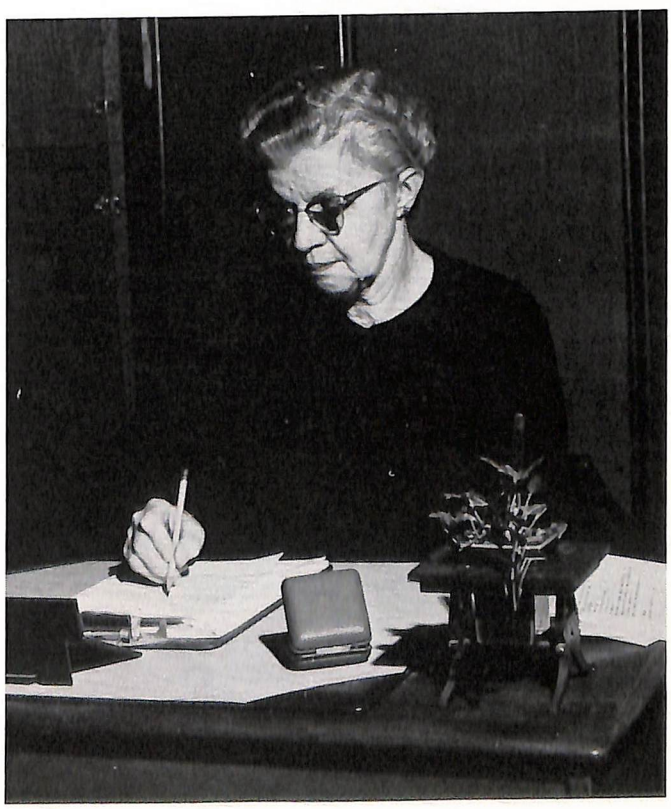
Miss Sewell, a newcomer at Monticello, has brought a friendly and efficient personality to our library, and has given the students a new appreciation of the library's resources.



Mrs. Musgrave, head-nurse, and her assistant, Mrs. Pelot, have proved to be quite an expert team for the health center. They have shown extreme interest and personal care in the health of Monticello students.



We are indeed grateful to Miss Alvena Closson, head of the housekeeping department, and to her staff, for it is they who are responsible for Monticello's "spic and span" appearance.

Supporting Hands

An administration without workers is like a house without wood — both need strong support. The secretaries of Monticello stand behind our administration and support its educational system. It is with their endless work and their full co-operation that every member of Monticello College benefits from their friendliness and efficency.

On Campus

MRS. MOODY and MRS. CHAMBERLAIN

MRS. PROPST, Dietician of the college dining hall, and MRS. MONTROY, assistant.

The most popular place on campus is the cabin. Managed by Mr. and Mrs. Moody, the main attraction here is Mrs. Moody's delicious home-cooked food.

Mrs. Irene Propst and Mrs. Clarence Montroy are the dieticians for the dining room. They are responsible for the fine, nourishing meals and the delectable brunches we have.

MISS DIETIKER, Manager of the bookstore

The school bookstore is efficiently run by Miss Marjorie Dietiker and Mrs. Elizabeth Habekost. This establishment provides students and faculty with school supplies, reading materials, and miscellaneous items.

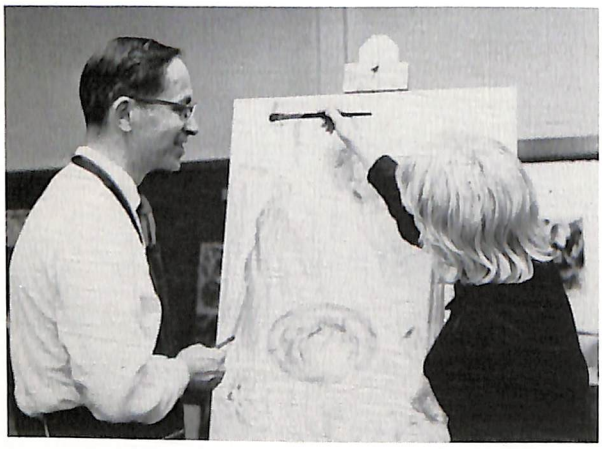
MRS. BRENDA CARTER
B.F.A., M.F.A.
Instructor in Art



MR. RAYMOND L. MUST
B.A., M.A.
Instructor in Art

Anyone interested in art as a profession, or merely as a hobby, can gain the "know-how" here at Monticello. In addition to instructing, the art department creates and maintains the student body's interest by displaying colorful design exhibitions, original paintings, and works of sculpture. The faculty teaching in the department are: Mr. Arnold, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Grandfield, Mr. Must, and Miss Stewart.

MISS REBA STEWART

of the Arts

MR. ROY M. CARTER
B.F.A.
Chairman of the Speech and Drama Department

MR. NOEL J. FALKOFSKE
B.S., M.A.
Instructor in Speech and Drama

Speaking is a very important part of our daily lives; how we speak what we say tells the type of person that we are. Monticello's Speech and Dramatics Department offers several courses designed to teach its students to communicate effectively. Moreover, classes present the students with an opportunity to employ the techniques they have learned.

"The Sound of Music" bursts forth in Wade Hall for Monticello's music students whether they are interested in majoring in music or merely interested in studying music for their own appreciation. In addition to instrumental and vocal lessons, courses in appreciation, basic music theory, and the history of music are available. The students are also encouraged to participate in school choral groups and civic music activities.

DR. ROBERT OLDHAM, Mus. B,
Mus. M, M.A., Ed.D., Chairman of the Music Department

MRS. PRUDENCE F. BUSSEY, Mus. B
Instructor in Music

A Voice of Any Age

MISS ISABEL PHISTERER
A. B., M.A.
Chairman of English Department

The study of English provides the foundation of academic and cultural aspiration. Great thoughts know neither time nor place, and it is through the study of them in literature that the English Department attempts to produce in each of its students the ability of clear expression and logical thought. Instrumental to this expression and logic are, of course, studies in the fundamentals of grammar, composition, and vocabulary.

MRS. KATHLEEN BURROUGHS
B.A., M.A.
Instructor in English

Development Through Discovery

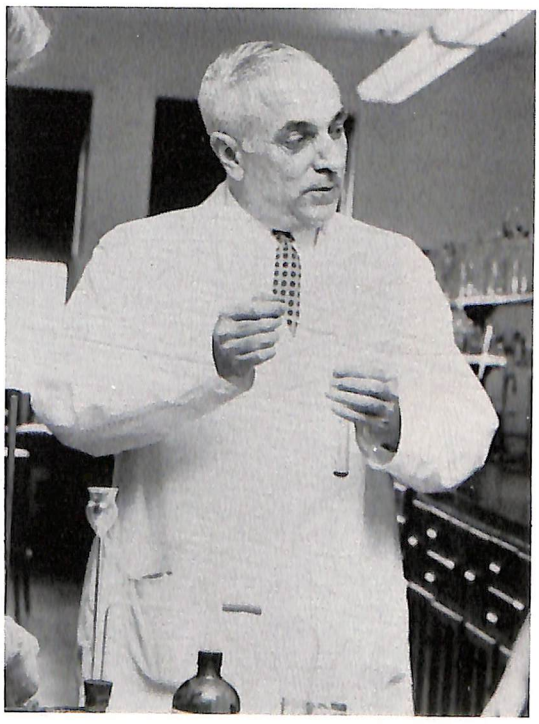
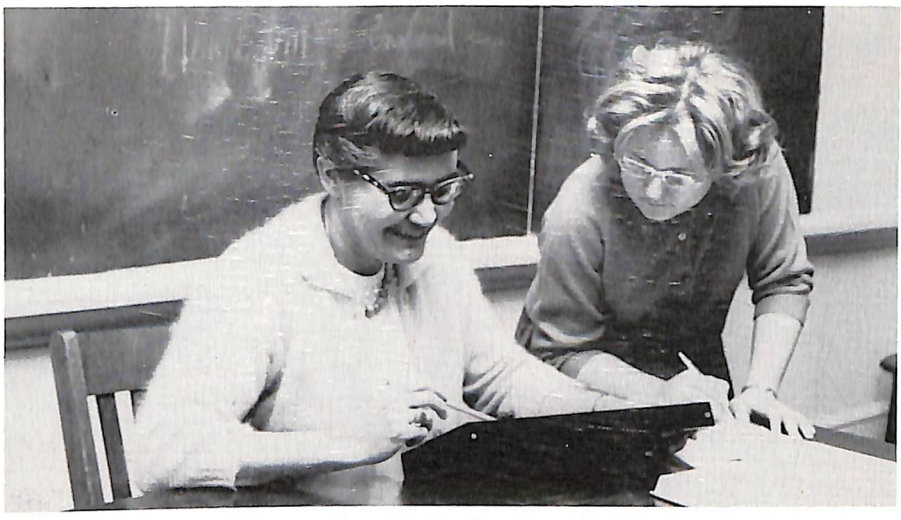
MRS. WOLFGANG F. PAULE
Ph.D.
Instructor in Biology

It is through the heritage of science that we look back—and are amazed at the accomplishments of the past; that we look ahead — and are awed by all that remains to be done. Science has become an indispensable part of our lives, and therefore a knowledge of its fundamental principles has become a necessity. Whether Biology, Physics, Chemistry, or Mathematics, the object of study remains the same: the development of logical, scientific reasoning and comprehension.

MR. LOUIS N. HEIDER
B.S., M.A.
Chairman of the Science Department



MR. CECIL G. ROLLINS
A.B., A.M.
Instructor in Chemistry



MISS EVELYN TRENNT

DR. WOLFGANG PAULI

Combined Careers

MISS CAROL CARSKADON
B.S.
Instructor in Secretarial Science

The Twentieth Century woman — at the office and at home. Monticello recognizes the dual role, of worker and mother, which many women are called upon to play today and therefore strives to prepare its students accordingly.

In the secretarial studies, courses in typing, accounting, shorthand, and office and secretarial practice are offered.

The Home Economics Department offers courses in nutrition and dietetics, fashions, and interior design.

MRS. WILLIAM GRANDFIELD
B. Ed.

MRS. ELIZABETH HUNTER
B.S.
Chairman of the Physical Education Department

MRS. RODNEY JOHNSON
B.A.
Instructor in Physical Education

3-8-1 . . . For healthy, alert students, this is Monticello's answer to the Pythaorean Theorem. The Physical Education Department provides the one hour of recreation needed regularly through a carefully planned series of sports activities including swimming, basketball, volleyball, and body mechanics. This department strives to develop in its students qualities of sportsmanship, compatibility, and physical fitness.

Man and His Heritage

MR. JOHN J. MacDONALD
A.B., M.A.
Instructor in Political Science

With the ever-increasing reality of the cold war confronting us, we are beginning to realize the importance of a clear understanding of the factors and trends influencing contemporary social and economic life. The Social Science Department, instructing in history, political science, psychology, philosophy, economics, and education, purposely aims towards giving its students a comprehensive insight into these casual relationships and principle influences.

MISS MARGARET ANN MARLOW

Understanding Through Communication

The language barrier — a deterrent obstructing both world understanding and students! The Monticello Foreign Language Department offers instruction in French, Spanish, and German. Through lectures and the use of a language laboratory, students soon become proficient and fluent linguists.

The Honors Program

Dr. Paul J. Cooke, Director of Honors Program.
Participating students: Kay Brown, Anne Dighton, Dottie Kaplan, Cheryl Cederdahl.

Man's relationship to himself, to his fellowman, to his family, to his country, to his God — a few of the questions which the Honors Program strives to answer in its study and survey of Western values. Students study these relationships from the point of view of their chosen tutorial field.

Open only to seniors who have achieved outstanding scholastic records, the Honors program combines tutorials, lectures, and individual research work.

Honor tutors this year are: Miss Margaret Marlow, Miss Isabel Phisterer, Mr. John MacDonald, and Mr. Herbert Woodbury.

THE COLLEGE

"I am what I am; nothing more."

Personality results from training and experience. We here at Monticello have become acquainted with the Seven Ideals and have adopted them as our own. Because of this, beauty, democracy, friendship, loyalty, service, and wisdom can be found in the student body; traditionally each spring the senior class selects seven girls who represent these qualities and pictures them in the ECHO.

Congratulations to this year's group of representatives.

Beauty — Priscilla English

Democracy — Paula Gresso

Dignity — Wendy Browne

Friendship — Joanne Asherman

Loyalty — Betsey Beard

Hell Week!

Wonder if the arsenic I put in the coffee has dissolved yet.

I always wear my shower cap to mixers. It keeps the snow out of my hair.

Pre-Monti Weekend

Pre-Monti guests receive a friendly welcome.

Dr. and Mrs. Heise chat informally with big and little sisters.

Each year Tri-Key sponsors a Pre-Monti Weekend. This event is planned to enable sophomores, juniors, and seniors from all high schools, to visit the school, meet the students, and get acquainted with the school before they decide which college they wish to attend.

There's nothing formal about a gab-fest in the smoker.

"Oh, give me a home . . ."

There she is . . . Miss America.

The big three on top again.

Cha, CHA, CHA!

The Echo, as its title indicates, re-echoes the year's activities at Monti. The hours of diligent work on the part of the girls who make up the various Echo staffs have made the book possible. Aside from this, the girls find that working on the yearbook is a worthwhile and enjoyable experience.

This book is a picture record of the students, faculty, and the staff; . . . a permanent "Echo" of the social events that we have enjoyed.

"SING ALONG"

This is just what the girls in the prep glee club do, and they love every minute of it.

Headed by Mrs. Prudence Bussey, the glee club provides a very important part of the Candlelight Service and Spring Concert. Good work, gals!

Charlotte Isselman, Alice Milnor, Harryette Hodges, Suzanne Pohlman.

N.H.S.

Picked for outstanding scholarship, leadership, character, and service, Honor Society members lead the student body in upholding the honor system. Sponsored by Miss Betty Jean Drayer, the Ann Whitney Olin Chapter of the National Honor Society is an honorary scholastic and service organization.

CHEERS FOR THE PREPS!

Preps in "Fashion"

This year the preparatory school presented a play entitled "King Arthur and the Magic Sword."

The cast and crew worked many hours to put over a successful performance.

The play took place in medieval times and dealt with the life of young Arthur as he grew up and finally became king.

The complete agreement of all who saw the play was that it was a complete success.

Good work!

Shall I tell him?

Ah!

Military Ball

The WMA Military Ball, highlight of the social season, was held March third. The gym was decorated with red, white, and blue streamers. The dance opened with the Grand March and the high point of the evening came when the Queen and her court were announced. The Queen and her court walked under the saber archway and paused at the end to receive a bouquet of roses and their cadet caps.

Class Day 1961

With the red roses in their arms, presented to the graduating seniors by the junior class, the seniors are almost ready to step out and face the world. Along with the knowledge they have gathered through the year will also go the memories of the good times during the past year and the lasting friends they have made.

Doll Dinner

One of Monti's oldest traditions, Doll Dinner, creates happiness for many unfortunate children through the toys that are donated by alums, students, and faculty. The dinner is the climax of M.C.A.'s months of hard work. Doll Dinner will always remain a vivid memory of our Monti days.

The Docs Rock

It can't be our doctors!

Our own Liberace.

Every year President and Mrs. Wimpress give an informal party at the Cabin for Monticello students and faculty. Providing the entertainment for this fine and hilarious event are the "Rockin' Docs Plus One". The members of this band are Dr. Wimpress, Dr. Meyers, Dr. Oldham, and Mr. Musgrave. Their chorus girl is no other than that famous "Peaches and Cream", in real life, Miss Brader. Thanks to the fine entertainment the students are able to see that "other" side of the faculty and to realize that they're not just walking books after all.

Crazy Man!

Darn! Intermission.

Taps a la Musgrave.

From satire to comedy, to the far out school of new theatre, Monticello's Drama Department produced three plays and a triology of one acts. In each, the student body had the chance to try-out or work as a part of the stage crew. Plays produced were, "Blithe Spirit" and "King Arthur and His Magic Sword". A talent skit, "Gaslight Square" was also put on by the student body.
